

My hammock is full of water. How do I get the water out of my hammock?

It can happen that the hammock fills with water due to the rain. If the water is not out of the hammock after 3 days, do the following.

1. Lay the hammock on the ground and squeeze as much water out of the hammock as possible by rubbing towards the seams with a dry cloth lane by lane.
2. Set 1 strap in the longest position.

3. Attach the hammock back into the frame.
4. Turn the hammock a quarter turn and hang it behind the frame.

The water will run out of the hammock faster this way. Fatboy hammocks can withstand a rain shower, but longer or heavy rain showers can ensure that the water remains in the hammock and seeps in through the seams. We always recommend that you store the hammock in a dry place after use.

Yours,
